

BEYOND THE CREST

World Building — Document 11

A Daytime Drama

The world of Beyond the Crest, from 1939 to the premiere
Monday, January 5, 2026

1. The Rules of This World

Beyond the Crest* takes place in our world with one great difference: in 1939, a paperboy from Auburn Avenue named Alexander Donohue started a newspaper, and never stopped. Everything that grew from that decision is real in this universe. Everything else is the world as we know it.

- Real places and institutions. Atlanta, Georgia, the United States, Spelman, Morehouse, Grady, Lake Lanier, the Chattahoochee, the NYSE, the Oscars, the Tonys, the FIFA World Cup: all of it exists and works the way it does in real life.
- Fictional people in power. Every President, governor, mayor, police chief, judge, CEO, and billionaire seen or named on screen is fictional. Real public figures are never portrayed.
- Real history, bent by the Donohues. The big events of American history still happen: the war, the movement, the Olympics, the crash, the pandemic. The Donohues were in the room for many of them.
- Real calendar. Holidays, election days, and award shows land on their real 2026 dates.
- Real parties. Democrats and Republicans are named on screen. Every character's party is listed in Section 12.
- In-universe media only. Every article, broadcast, and post comes from outlets and platforms that exist inside this world (Section 6).

2. The Donohue Effect: How This World Differs From Ours

In our world	In the world of Beyond the Crest
The most valuable company is worth a few trillion dollars	The Donohue Company is worth $10 trillion . No other company is worth even half as much
Hollywood is in Los Angeles	Atlanta is the media capital of the world . More film, TV, and music is made in metro Atlanta than in Los Angeles and New York combined
The richest people are tech founders	The richest person on Earth is a 34-year-old Black actor and heir: Marc-Anthony Bullock
Black-owned media is a small share of the industry	The largest media company on the planet has been Black-owned since 1939
Organized crime is fragmented	One syndicate, Blackwater , is larger than any criminal organization in history, and it pays rent for grandmothers
Consumer brands advertise everywhere	Almost no consumer brand can reach a mass audience without buying Donohue airtime. Smilley hates that more than anyone
EGOTs are extremely rare	One Atlanta family holds two of them at the premiere, and four by June 2026

3. The United States, January 2026

The Nation

- America is heading into its 250th birthday on Saturday, July 4, 2026, the Semiquincentennial. The Donohue Company holds the broadcast rights to the national celebration (Ep #0126).
- The country is co-hosting the 2026 FIFA World Cup (June 11 – July 19). Atlanta hosts eight matches, including a semifinal on Wednesday, July 15 (Ep #0133). BSI runs security for the Atlanta matches.
- Midterm elections are on Tuesday, November 3, 2026. Every House seat, including Jasmine Olson's, is on the ballot.
- The 2028 presidential race has quietly begun. Georgia Attorney General Arianna Cummings is one of the most talked-about possible candidates.

Washington (all fictional)

Office	Holder	Born / Age	Notes
President (R)	Richard Aldridge	Mar 18, 1958 / 67	Former governor of Ohio. Inaugurated Jan 20, 2025. Courts Donohue money and fears Donohue cameras
Vice President (R)	Karen Molina	Sep 2, 1969 / 56	Former U.S. senator from Arizona. Already the front-runner for 2028, and watching Arianna closely
U.S. Representative, Georgia (D)	Jasmine Olson	Mar 23, 1970 / 55	In office since 1997. Senior member of the House Energy and Commerce Committee, which oversees the media industry her family dominates. Critics never stop pointing that out

The American Economy

- The stock market is near all-time highs, carried by media, AI, and entertainment. The Donohue Company alone is about one-sixth of the S&P 500's value.
- The real-world tech giants exist, but none is worth even half of The Donohue Company.
- The most valuable companies in this story: The Donohue Company ($10.0 trillion, public), Smiley Corporation ($1.6 trillion, public), and Blackwater Security International ($1.3 trillion, private).

The Crown Rich List, January 2026

Published every January by Crown magazine, which the Donohues own. Rivals call it “the family newsletter.”

Rank	Name	Net worth	Source
1	Marc-Anthony Bullock	$994B+	BSI, The Donohue Company, investments
2	Victor Donohue	~$680B	The Donohue Company

Rank	Name	Net worth	Source
3	Joan Donohue	~$415B	The Donohue Company, royalties
4	Natasha Bullock	~$330B	The Donohue Company
5	Jasmine & Peter Olson	~$345B combined	The Donohue Company, Olson Institute
6	Alvin Donohue	~$200B	The Donohue Company
7	Theodore Donohue family	~$200B	The Donohue Company
8	Augustus “Gus” Smilley	~$152B	Smilley Corporation
9	Leonard Smilley	~$112B	Smilley Corporation
10	Martin Olson	~$104B	The Donohue Company

Every name in the top ten is a Donohue or a Smilley. Gus Smilley has a framed copy of every list since 1996, each with the Donohue names blacked out.

4. Georgia

Office	Holder	Notes
Governor (D)	William Hartley (b. Jun 6, 1962; 63)	Serving his second and final term, so 2026 is an open-seat governor's race. Appointed Arianna Cummings Attorney General
Attorney General (D)	Arianna Cummings (b. Oct 25, 1992; 33)	Appointed Mon, Mar 17, 2025, after Attorney General Bradley Keane resigned in a bribery scandal. Georgia elects its AG, so she must win in 2026: she beats State Rep. Cordell Haynes in the May 19 Democratic primary (Ep #0094) and faces Republican nominee Grant Hollister, a former U.S. Attorney, on November 3
Fulton County District Attorney (D)	Colette Barnes (b. Apr 30, 1979; 46)	Arianna's former chief deputy, appointed interim DA in 2025. Loyal to Arianna, for now

Georgia in 2026

- Election calendar: primary Tuesday, May 19 (Ep #0094); runoff Tuesday, June 16 (Ep #0113); general election Tuesday, November 3.
- The open governor's race is the biggest prize in the South, and every candidate wants a Donohue endorsement. Season 2 storyline.
- The film industry: Georgia's production boom began in the 1950s, when Donohue Pictures built its first soundstages. Today “the Peach State” is the world's busiest filming location.
- Lake Lanier, an hour north of Atlanta, is where the rich go for summer and for secrets. It's the setting of the 2011 night that started it all, and of the Season 1 finale.

5. Atlanta, “The Media Capital of the World”

Metro population about 6.4 million. In this world Atlanta is where the world's stories get made. Tourists take the Donohue Studios tour the way they visit the Hollywood sign in ours.

City Office	Holder	Notes
Mayor (D)	Denise Whitlock (b. Dec 15, 1972; 53)	Second term. A Belmont Crest outsider who resents the ridge and needs its money
Chief of Police, APD	Elxa Jackson (b. Aug 29, 1990; 35)	Sworn in Tue, Sep 2, 2025. The youngest chief in the city's history
Former Chief	Walter Jackson (b. Jan 18, 1956; 69)	Chief 2011–2019

Map of the Story

Place	Where	Why it matters
Belmont Crest	1958 Belmont Crest Pkwy NW (30327)	Home of the Donohues. See Document 04

Place	Where	Why it matters
Tuxedo Park	Buckhead, across the ridge	Home of the Smilleys
Donohue Tower	1939 Peachtree St NE, Midtown	108 stories, the tallest building in the South
Smiley Plaza	3400 Peachtree Rd NE, Buckhead	Built in 1996 so Gus could see Donohue Tower from his desk
BSI Tower	2011 Northside Pkwy NW	Blackwater's legitimate face
Atlanta Metropolitan Medical Center	Midtown	Peter's hospital. Victor's surgery (Ep #0102)
Westbrook Academy	Buckhead	School of Emma, Victoria, Lyric, and Trey
APD Headquarters	Downtown	Elxa's office and Jeremy's squad room
Fulton County Courthouse	Downtown	The Whitaker trial
The Beacon Museum	190 Auburn Ave NE, Sweet Auburn	Alexander's original 1939 press room

SOVEREIGN	Buckhead Village	Alvin's nightclub, opened May 2026
The Well	Westside	Deuce Whitaker's nightclub and Blackwater's Atlanta base
Lucky Seven Karaoke	Buford Highway	Vincent Morrow's back-room office
Paces Ferry Road bridge	Chattahoochee River	Where T-Bone Gaines died
The downtown stadium	Downtown	World Cup semifinal (Ep #0133)

6. The Media Universe

Every headline, broadcast, and post in the show comes from these outlets and platforms. Knowing who owns what tells you who's lying.

Owned by The Donohue Company

Outlet	What it is
The Atlanta Beacon	The family's original 1939 paper; now the South's newspaper of record
BNN (Beacon News Network)	24-hour global news channel
DBC	National broadcast network. Home of Hollywood Heat , hosted by Brielle Knox
The Crown Network	Cable entertainment channel
WDON-TV	Atlanta's No. 1 local station
Crown magazine	Black lifestyle and society bible since 1947; publishes the Crown Rich List
Donohue+	Streaming service, 1.3 billion subscribers

Independent and Rival Outlets

Outlet	What it is
The Peach Ledger	Scrappy independent investigative outlet. Journee Holloway's home. No Donohue money, on principle
The Tea Kettle ATL	Anonymous gossip blog with the biggest audience in Atlanta. Secretly written by Harmony Divine
Marquee	The entertainment industry's trade paper, based in Los Angeles: casting, box office, deals
The Capitol Wire	Washington politics outlet; covers Jasmine and the 2028 field
Wall & Broad	Financial daily; covers the Crown License war
Channel 7 Atlanta	The only local TV news outlet not owned by Donohue

Social Platforms

Platform	What it is	Who uses it
Chirp	Short text posts and trending hashtags	Everyone. Breaking news breaks here first
Glimpse	Photos and 24-hour stories	Grace, Sienna, Coco, the twins
Loop	Short vertical video	The kids; Marc's unhinged comedy clips
Pulse	Live streaming	Galas, verdicts, and anything that might go wrong

The Donohue Company owns 30% of Loop. Smiley owns none of them, and pays all of them.

7. The Underworld and the Law

- The Blackwater Syndicate controls 43 countries and every major U.S. city (Document 05). To the street it's "the people from the river." To APD it's "the ghost network." To the FBI it's "Organization X."
- The Morrow Organization is Vincent Morrow's Irish-American mob. It was pushed off Atlanta's ports in 2017 and has been starving for a way back ever since.
- Independent crews pay Blackwater's "tax" or leave town. Violence in Atlanta's hardest neighborhoods has fallen by half since the 2013 Peace of Peachtree, and nobody in City Hall can explain why.
- The law: APD under Chief Elxa Jackson; the Fulton County DA's office under interim DA Colette Barnes; the FBI Atlanta field office under Special Agent in Charge Nadia Brooks; and the Georgia Attorney General, Arianna Cummings, who knows more than any of them.

8. Culture and Society

- Black Atlanta's social calendar runs through Belmont Crest: the Country Club's New Year's brunch, the Valentine's Ball, the Juneteenth Jubilee, Fourth of July fireworks, and the Crest Cotillion.
- Joan vs. Celeste. The Donohue Foundation Gala and the Smilley Family Foundation Ball fall on the same night every year, and Atlanta society picks a side.
- HBCUs are richer than ever: Donohue Hall at Spelman, the Alexander Donohue School of Journalism at Morehouse, and anonymous "Envelope" scholarships that nobody can trace.
- Pop culture belongs to Donohue: the Crown Universe superhero films, Kingdom of Kora games, Donohue Records' chart-toppers, and Donohue Worlds theme parks on four continents.
- Belmont Crest vs. Tuxedo Park is Atlanta's favorite rivalry. The kids call it "the Ridge versus the Park."
- The Envelope. Every Friday, envelopes of cash appear in Atlanta's neighborhoods. Grandmothers light candles for whoever sends them.

Where the splits hurt

- Summit House: Victor is a lifelong business Republican; Joan is a lifelong Democrat. They've canceled out each other's vote in every election since 1969.
- The Olsons: Congresswoman Jasmine is a Democrat. Her husband Peter and her son Martin are Republicans who quietly write checks to her opponents' party.
- The Jacksons: the Chief is an Independent; her by-the-book husband is a Republican.
- The Circle: Amond (Republican) and Harmony (Democrat) fight about politics the way they fight about everything else.
- The Smilleys are a Republican house, except Loretta, Delphine, and Desmond. Leonard still funds Democrat Marcus Pryor's primary challenge to Jasmine, because hurting a Donohue beats party loyalty.

13. Marc-Anthony's Secret Campaign

Marc-Anthony Bullock is a Democrat with Republican values who believes in bipartisanship. He SECRETLY wants to run for President of the United States in 2028. At the premiere, no one knows: not Amond, not Grace, not his parents, and not Arianna.

How the secret moves in Season 1 (Document 08, Storyline 16)

Episode	What happens
#0001	11:59 PM on his birthday: he writes “2028” in a leather notebook
#0036	Nova runs a secret national poll. He's within six points of the Vice President without anyone knowing his name
#0046	Zeke: a campaign and Blackwater can't both survive
#0108	“What's next after the EGOT?” “The White House.” Everyone laughs but Martin
#0126	His America-at-250 toast goes viral; #MarcForPresident trends No. 1
#0129	Arianna launches her exploratory committee early
#0136	Martin: “If he runs, he wins.”
#0150	He tells Esther, the first person he's ever told
Eligibility check
Constitutional minimum age	35
Marc's age on Election Day, Tue, Nov 7, 2028	36
Marc's age on Inauguration Day, Sat, Jan 20, 2029	37 (eligible)

What he believes in, and will 100% accomplish, zero questions asked

- Universal healthcare
- Universal education
- 100% elimination of the national debt
- World peace
- Domestic peace
- 100% elimination of inflation
- Making everything 100% astronomically affordable again
- Making the USA a dominant superpower once again
- Astronomically lowering taxes, and eventually eliminating them 100% (there are better ways for the country to make money)
- Making the country 100% clean in every way
- Immigration 100% legal and allowed: open borders, 100% all the way

Long-term goal: The North American Union: a political and economic union for North America.

More of his platform will be revealed as the story unfolds.

The 2028 field (as of January 2026)

Name	Party	Status
Karen Molina	Republican	Sitting Vice President and the front-runner
Arianna Cummings	Democrat	Publicly weighing a run; exploratory committee planned after the midterms (launched early, Ep #0129)
Marc-Anthony Bullock	Democrat (with Republican values)	SECRET. By the finale only Esther and Nova know; Martin suspects

The collision course

- Marc and Arianna, best friends since childhood, are headed for the same Democratic primary, and neither knows it yet.
- Arianna's buried secrets are buried by Marc. His biggest secret, Blackwater, is the one thing that could end any campaign.
- Martin, a Republican, would do anything to stop his cousin from reaching the White House.
